

10 Things You Didn't Know Were @ Your Library

You may think of your library as nothing but a place full of books. But step inside or visit their web site and you'll be surprised at what is available to you. And all you need to access these great resources is a library card.

Audiobooks: download books as MP3 files or check out a playaway – just add headphones

Movies: download movies to watch on your laptop or handheld device or check out DVDs and Blu-Ray discs

Music: download music that's iPod compatible or check out CDs

Help with homework: log onto the library's web site to get help from an expert 24/7 through online homework help or ask the librarian how to use databases for research

Practice tests: log on to the library's web site to prepare for the ACT, SAT, ASVAB, GED, Praxis and more

E-readers: lighten your backpack! Borrow a Kindle or other e-reader

Laptops: borrow a laptop for homework assignments, research and more

Training: attend sessions for career planning, job searching tips, creating your own videos, creative writing and more

Mobile phone apps: visit your library's web sites to find apps for your phone and QR codes to help you find books, reviews and more

Experts: let the librarian show you shortcuts for researching, tips for building a better resume, how to create your own blog and much more
